These students DARE to "just say no"

Forty two Grade Six students from Elk Point Elementary School are better equipped to deal with the problems of drugs, alcohol and peer pressure, thanks to a program presented through the cooperation of the RCMP and their school.

The Drug Abuse Resistance Education Program (DARE) wound up last Tuesday night with a graduation ceremony, complete with speakers, presentation of certificates and awards in a gymnasium decked with streamers and balloons in DARE's colors of black, red and white. A pair of scarlet-coated RCMP officers added to the solemnity of the occasion, as the graduates, in matching DARE t-shirts, filed in to their seats.

Principal Don Conrad said the school had chosen March 29 to April 1 as their week in the year to celebrate achievements in the school. "This added activity exemplified achievement in learning as we celebrate the achievements of the DARE Program."

O Canada was led by program participants Valerie Friesen, Mallory Paquette, Simone Dumont and Brett Hahn, with Don Buryn at the piano.

RCMP Cst. Cathy Bedard told the assembly of parents, students and special guests that DARE was developed in 1983 in Los Angeles, where for the first time, uniformed police officers instructed youth in a classroom setting. DARE targets upper elementary grade students with a core curriculum of peer pressure resistance training and interactive peer leadership. The uniformed constables, as role models, have high credibility and develop good rapport with the students as they instill decision-making capabilities in time to forestall experimentation with tobacco and alcohol.

THE SPIRIT OF DARE medallions were presented by teacher Orest Sereda to Courtney Binx and Brett Bekker.

Grade 6 Health teacher Orest Sereda, who cooperated with Cst. Bedard in the program, thanked community sponsors: Servus Credit Union, Pan Canadian Petroleum, E-Can Oilfield Services, St. Paul and Area Victim Services Unit, Shamrock Valley Enterprises, Union Pacific, BPO Elks Lodge, Lioness Club, the County of St. Paul #19, Enhanced Policing St. Paul and Elk Point, and Video Point, for their support.

A group of students, Amy Olstad, Tanya Orr, Melissa Breen, Brett Bekker, Courtney Binx, Curtis Beardy, Joshua Boyko and Ashley Hebblethwaite, outlined the principles of DARE, which include learning how to say no to drug offers, how to cope with others' bad behavior, how to be assertive, how stress affects us and how to reduce stress, and how to reduce violence.

Three skits and six winning essays pounded home the lessons learned in the program.

The first skit starred Nicholas Myshaniuk and Devin Moneta as they learned to deal with problems in a non-confrontational, nonviolent manner. Valerie Friesen's essay spoke on the consequences of drugs and violence and the eight ways to say no, and concluded with her decision not to try drugs and alcohol. Jordan Cousins' essay on "Just Say No," included the advice that it is important to have a good relationship with your parents.

The second skit starred Megan Dorey, Lornie Gadwa, Ryan Merkel, Brandon Holthe, Simone Dumont, Garret Zarowny, Lee Letestu and Brett Bekker as they outlined the various ways to say no to drug offers, ending with the sentiment that if it is 'chicken' not to try drugs, "I'd rather be chicken."

Travis Lindquist spoke on "What is the DARE Program?" and said it offered information

Ratepayers call meeting to discuss County Mountie

Divisions 1 and 2 feel cheated by council decisions

By Rhonda Noyce
Staff Writer

Even though the County of St. Paul has officially announced it is terminating its contract for enhanced policing through the RCMP, ratepayers in Divisions 1 and 2 were still speaking out against the decision last Thursday night.

Ratepayers in the eastern part of the county called a meeting to discuss the County Mountie position as well as many other directions council is presently taking.

Councillors from Divisions 1, 2 and 3 were present to field any questions the ratepayers asked.

"The purpose of this meeting is to find out where the County is on a number of issues, such as the municipal government plan, taxes and gravelling," said meeting chair Dennis Cameron, a Division 1 ratepayer.

However, the first topic that arose was the elimination of the County Mountie.

When asked how much revenue the officer brought in last year, Division 2 Councillor Ray Danyluk went into a detailed explanation of how they decided to hire the Mountie.

"On February 24, 1996, we met with the oil companies in the area to discuss traffic and damage to the roads. Residents in the area were also concerned, so we discussed our options for up to two years," said Danyluk.

The council at that time estimated the Mountie would bring in about $50,000 per year to make up most of the $80,000 price tag for the position.

Since Const. Cathy Bedard started in the enhanced policing position last July she generated up to $4,000 per month through fines.

"Yeah, but she only penalized people on Armistice Road," yelled out one person from the crowd of about 50 people in the Elk Point Senior's Centre.

This sparked the first of many arguments among the crowd. The ratepayers

NOTICE FOR OBJECTIONS

APPLICATION NO. 990065
TOWN OF ELK POINT &
APPLICATION NO. 990081
CENTRA GAS ALBERTA INC.

Take Notice that the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board (the EUB) may continue to process these applications without further notice if no bona fide objections are received on or before 20 April 1999.

Nature of Application

The Town of Elk Point (the Town) has filed an application with the EUB for approval of a renewal of its special franchise agreement (the Renewal Agreement) previously held by Elk Point Gas Ltd. and now assigned to Centra Gas Alberta Inc. (Centra). The Renewal Agreement gives Centra an exclusive right to provide the residents of the Town with the delivery of natural gas for a period of 10 years. The Renewal Agreement requires Centra to pay the Town a franchise fee in lieu of taxes otherwise payable.

The previous agreement allowed for a fee of 5 per cent of the company's annual gross revenues in the franchise area. This accounted for approximately $45.36 of the total annual bill for an average customer. The Renewal Agreement allows for a 7 per cent per annum fee, which will account for an increase of $18.14 to an average customer's annual bill. This translates to approximately $63.50 of the total annual bill. However, the actual amount is dependent on a customer's gas consumption. The new fee represents an annual average. Customers should contact Centra if they would like more specific details regarding how this will affect their bill.

Centra has also applied to the EUB for approval to revise Rate Rider 'A' to comply with the terms of the agreement.

Michael J. Bruni, General Counsel

Don Mudryk also became upset when some people in the crowd suggested the eastern part of the county was being left out of the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) program.

"These are all scare tactics here," said Mudryk. "The RCMP expect us to pay for it."

Mudryk later said council already made the decision to cancel the County Mountie position; therefore, there was no reason to discuss the matter.

When asked why the Mountie was cut, Mudryk explained the County didn't want to be in the business of providing policing to their ratepayers and hiring the Mountie was setting a precedent for further downloading from the province. Mudryk was one of the five councillors who voted in favor of cancelling the contract.

"You're really caught up in this setting a precedent thing," a ratepayer yelled out. "If that's the cost for keeping DARE or slowing traffic down then it's worth it."

Another yelled out, "If it saves one kid from getting killed then it's cheap."

Mudryk later said there was still a chance to reverse the decision on the contract if the public outcry was great enough. Otherwise, Const. Bedard will receive her written notice in June, which will give her one year remaining in her contract.

"I had 25 to 30 calls saying they didn't want her. It's the people who decide what happens in the County ... and that's the reason why I'm here and you're not," Mudryk said while pointing to former Division 3 councillor Gerald Krankowsky.

The topic changed to other areas such as road projects, but even then the yelling amongst the ratepayers continued. Some suggested that the eastern divisions were being left out.

"We're looking at Lindbergh Hill ... we're not ignoring the eastern divisions," Mudryk snapped back.

Spring thoughts on happiness and gratitude

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

I hope you all had a Happy Easter. And now, our children are home from school for their Spring Break. A happy time - right!

When you think about it, the spring season with Easter and everything that happens this time of year is really a happy, grateful time of year. I like Spring. To me it means renewal. A new opportunity to begin again. Spring is a happy time. I am grateful for Spring. For those of us who believe in the gift of Christ's resurrection at the Easter time, we feel very grateful.

Speaking of gratitude, I found a story about a minister and his son entitled "Dad's Gratitude." ... While the Minister was in this one area, a new meeting house was being built. The son, while this was happening, was a teenager. Those of you who are minister's sons know that sometimes performance expectations tend to be a little high for the minister's sons.

Often when the son would arrive home, he would find a note on the kitchen table inviting him to join his Dad in working on the new building. These invitations were not always received with great warmth and enthusiasm. It seemed to the Minister's son, that he received more than his share of invitations to work on the new meetinghouse.

As the building neared completion, landscaping commenced. The church brethren were extended a work opportunity in hauling fertilizer to the site. Because the minister was part of the expedition, the minister's son felt an obligation to respond. They drove to a mountain sheep corral. Into a large truck they shovelled very finely ground, dry sheep fertilizer. The wind blue much of what they threw into the truck back to those who were working. This unsavory material gathered in their eyes, throats, noses, ears and down their backs. The son can't remember being so uncomfortable. ... When they arrived back at the meetinghouse to unload the material, the son found that his new bike had been stolen. Of course, the son complained loudly. Why would the Lord permit someone to steal his bike when he was about the Lord's work?

When the minister and his son arrived home, they showered and sat down to an evening meal. The son complained about the day and especially the loss of his bike. ... Then as they knelt in prayer, the minister thanked the Heavenly Father for the opportunity of the day's service and expressed love for his son. He asked forgiveness for the person who had taken the bike. He noted his sorrow for the loss but expressed gratitude that it wasn't his son who had committed the theft... Dad's Gratitude.

I liked this story because it reminds me there is always something to be grateful for. Spring and the real meaning of Easter, I am grateful for. Thank you.

Memories of the Review's early days

Dear Vicki,

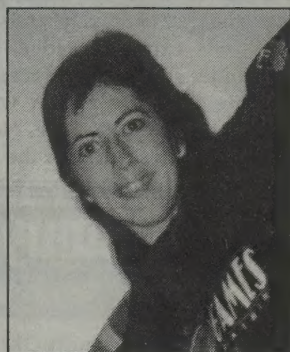

Hello there! Was it ever nice to get a letter from you. Man, I can hardly believe it's been 15 years since the Review first started up. How time flies, eh? I often think of when I started working there and I remember a lot of laughter and fun. So many people would often drop by for a coffee and visit.

As for funny memories, well, there were quite a few. A couple that stand out were when I had this lady call to complain that she was getting a lot of phone calls for chickens. She was confused at first, until she read the ad, which stated "Hens For Sale." It should have read, "House For Sale." Another time, I was left to watch the shop and I had a lady come in all proud and happy because she had caught a huge fish, and she wanted her picture in the paper. Well, I went out and snapped a few pics, so she left happy and thrilled that she'd be in the paper with the big one that didn't get away! Well, much to my horror, a couple of days later I learned that there was no film in the camera! So that kind of ended my career as a competent reporter. I also remember a lot of confusion and fun that Donna [Brooker, now Ockerman] and I would have with our names being the same. I think sometimes you could have shot us both.

Well, as for now, I'm living in Grande Prairie, with three beautiful children. Brittany is eight, Brianna six and Jared, five. I'm back printing and I run three different presses now. I'm also the head operator of laminating and we have the largest laminator of the Peace region. I have also done vinyl signs and of course, bindery. I'm at Martin-Weiss Graphics and I quite enjoy being back in it all.

So, as you can imagine, my life is quite hectic. I come home (to Elk Point) every now and then and maybe I'll be down for Easter. I know I'll be down in the summer for sure and I'll look you up for coffee and a chat.

Until then, take care
Donna (Boothman) Young

The Review celebrates 15 years of news

THE ELK POINT REVIEW celebrated 15 years of news coverage with an open house last Thursday. Former and present reporters and columnists were remembered. Office manager Diane Balash does the honors, above, presenting small gifts to sports columnist Doug Bassett, "Alberta Trails" columnist and former reporter Irene Magnusson and "Our Past" columnist Steve Andrichak.

Open House door prize winners were Paulette Phillips, Lena Cap and Virginia Smereka.

THESE BACK ISSUES GO WAY BACK -- including some from before the present owners purchased the Review in March 1984. Mary Kinjerski brought in a copy of Volume I, Number 1, dated September 21, 1983, while the oldest copy of the Elk Point Lakeland Review, from April 4, 1984, was brought in by Irene Magnusson and tells of Elizabeth Zarowny's retirement, new flooring and ramp at the Pioneer Circle, and the curling club winding up with a funspiel.

A look back at the first Review

The very first issue of the Lakeland Review, on September 21, 1983, carried the following story on its front page. More than 15 years later, our philosophies are much the same. This very first issue was brought in by Mary Kinjerski and carried headlines regarding a teachers' strike, and changes in Alberta Health Care.

"You hold in your hand the very first edition of the Lakeland Review. With hard work, your support and some luck (not necessarily in that order), there will be many more editions pass through your hands.

The Review understands that Elk Point has been introduced to a number of newspapers over the years. To ensure our won continuance, we plan to start slowly, growing only if local support warrants it. "Small is better than nothing at all" will be our watch dog for a while.

Local content is the key word at the Review. Or rather, will be. This edition is lacking local news; we need assistance from the district's groups, organizations and potential writers. If you know of an upcoming event or news worthy item, please let us know.

We are a weekly community newspaper and on no account do we plan to compete with any major newspapers. Should response warrant it, we plan to publish non only local news and sports, but entertaining, informative local columns (like Kitchen Korner Kates), a community calendar, contests and whatever else may interest you. With your help the Review will inform, entertain and sell. If you have any suggestions, beets or bouquets, please let us know." That offer still stands.

■ Nutrition Notes

Water, water, water

By Julia Painchaud, BSc, RD
Elk Point Health Centre

Did you know that about 60% of the body is made up of water? A person with more lean body mass (muscle) will have more water stored in the body than a person with less muscle mass. Because the body is made up of so much water it is important to be drinking at least 6 to 8 cups of caffeine free fluids every day.

What about thirst? The thirst response in humans is poor. Feeling thirsty means that the body is already dehydrated. With age the thirst mechanism becomes even poorer (weaker). So one must not rely on thirst alone but instead drink water regularly throughout the day.

Water is the best fluid to help keep the body well hydrated. Milk, juices, decaffeinated coffee, caffeine-free teas can also help. But caffeine containing fluids such as regular coffee and tea and cola-type pops (Coke and Pepsi) cannot be counted in our fluid needs. This is because caffeine is a diuretic which makes the body lose water. You can still enjoy some caffeine-containing beverages but try to limit them to 2 to 4 cups per day while still getting at least 6 to 8 cups of caffeine-free fluids. Remember, if you are physically active (even housework/yardwork/chores) and /or the weather is hot/humid, the body needs even more fluid.

What is all this fuss about drinking enough water? Water is an essential nutrient and vital to good health. Water transports nutrients and oxygen to body cells and takes waste products away, regulates body temperature, gives structure to cells, and acts as a lubricant between joints. Increasing fluid intake can help prevent/improve constipation, decrease the risk of bladder and kidney infections, help with weight control (if more water, not juices are taken in) and can help improve alertness and concentration. Bottoms up!

Education Week a busy time at Elk Point Elementary

Elk Point Elementary School celebrated the achievements of their students with their very own Education Week, March 29 to April 1. Monday night was the opening of the Book Fair in the School Library, as well as an Open House and Science Fair.

Parents and other visitors toured the school, looking with interest at everything from Mrs. Buryn's Grade 1A jungle-theme room with "lions' den" corner, to Mr. Hymanyk's terrarium filled with 'stick bugs' and Miss Ockerman's ECS class portrayed as bunnies in Easter baskets.

Halls throughout the school displayed a variety of artwork and creative writing, with the wall near the office decked with a variety of quilt squares, either of traditional cloth or paper, created by the students or their families. One square portrayed the sentiment that "Families are like quilts: lives pieced together, colored by happiness, tears, memories and love."

SCIENCE FAIR

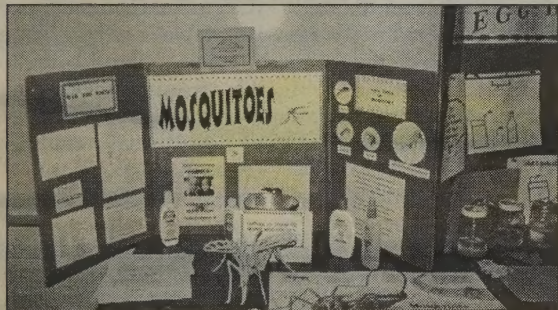

Two classrooms were devoted to the Science Fair, with many outstanding exhibits, including two by 'future scientists' from Grade 2. Awards of excellence went to the top exhibits from each grade: Grade 3 — Erin Lindquist and Sara Rae, "Ice and Fur"; Derek Wruth and Ryan Mudryk, "Contraction and Expansion"; Diedra Nelson and Megan Millar, "Mosquitoes."

Grade 5 — Lisa Sparks, Ashley Murfin and

Chelsea Schnurer, "Investigation"; Amy Millar and Megan Proskiwi, "Which Works Better to Soak Up Oil?" and Garret Zarowny, Joshua Boyko and Ryan Merkel, "Oil Pumpjack."

STICK BUGS are the latest addition to teacher Wayne Hymanyk's classroom menagerie. He displays some of the largest creatures on his hand.

MOSQUITOES were the topic of this winning Science Fair display by Grade 3 students Diedra Nelson and Megan Millar.

BOOKS FOR EVERYONE - at the Book Fair.

Elementary thespians present Fine Arts Night

Elk Point Elementary's Grade 5 and 6 drama club members, under the direction of teacher Bernice Capjack-Hugo, presented three one-act plays and two readers' theatre numbers to a delighted crowd of families and friends on March 31.

Amy Olstad and Valerie Friesen were mistresses of ceremonies for the evening, which started off with O Canada, played by Don Buryn and led by Kelsey Slywka, Brittany Buryn, Karly Shankowski and Christina Moores.

First on the program was a visit to Madame Camellia's Beauty Parlor, where Madame Camellia (Tanya Orr), against the advice of her assistant Mary Jane (Jan Kozicky), offered curling solution to Miss Bell (Courtinee Bintz), skin renewer to Miss Henpons (Jessica Mason), weight-gaining supplement to Mrs. Brown (Bailey Weir) for her little girl Fairy (Emily Mosley), two-way reducing powder to Mrs. Robinson (Kristin Weir) for her too-tall son Ebenezer (Lauren Peters), hair restorer to Mr. Slicker (Curtis Proskiw) and fingernail grower to Freda (Darla Yaremkevich). Ten days later, Madame Camellia is bombarded by unsatisfied customers, but Policeman Pat (Travis Anderson) sends them packing, and tells them "you all got just what you deserve" for buying in to miracle cures.

The first Readers' Theatre was taken from Erma Bombeck's book, "The Ties That Bind... and Gag." Narrator Bailey Weir asked, "What makes a family a family?" Parents Courtinee Bintz and Jessica Lee, along with children Emily Mosley, Lauren Peters, Amy Olstad and Travis Anderson, wove a tale of children "doing nothing" in the bathroom, coming home after curfew, doing the dinner time disappearing act, and driving parents nutty while travelling.

"Wanted: A Housekeeper, marriage if suited" was the ad bachelor Joe (Devin Moneta) put in the paper after conferring with poker pals John (Lauren Peters), Harry (Adrian McKinnon), Ron (Adam Zapesocki) and George (Travis Anderson). Friends Steve (Curtis Proskiw) and Mary (Darla Yaremkevich) had their doubts about what kind of woman would answer the ad, and they weren't far off. Barmaid (Kelsey Slywka) said he was "too old." Recent immigrant Olga (Angela Oryshchuk) was in too much of a hurry to move in. Annie (Valerie Friesen) came with three bratty offspring (Amber Morris, Martina Murfin and Yolanda Kinjerski). Susie (Melissa Frisby) was a blonde bombshell hiding out from the police. Baba (Jessica Lee) wanted to clean up his house, but was way too old. A married woman (Sarah Schade) looking for an outside interest was out of the question. A local school teacher (Candace Babcock) wanted to enroll him in an evening writing class. Mike and Sandra (Adrian McKinnon and Pamela Warner) wanted to find their daughter (Melissa Frisby) a husband to look after her. And a business woman (Christina Moores) barely got in the door before she wanted to discuss bank balances and such. This was all too much for Joe, who decided to remain a bachelor, and give up on advertising.

UNSATISFIED CUSTOMERS are ready to declare war on Madame Camellia (Left) when her beauty products have some pretty strange results in "Madame Camellia's Beauty Parlor."

"Ladies First" was the motto of the sweet young thing (Valerie Friesen) in the Readers' Theatre take-off on the Shel Silverstein book of the same name, narrated by Emily Mosley and Kelsey Slywka. "Ladies first" is a good practice in most instances, but can be risky when it comes to being eaten by tigers (Christina Moores, Angela Oryshchuk and Yolanda Kinjerski) who were deciding which tourist to devour first. "And mighty tasty she was, too," they reported.

The esteemed "Dr. Manners" was the hero of the final play, with Karly Shankowski as the Doctor and Brittany Buryn as Nurse Polite, as they deal with an epidemic of bad manners. Tommy (Adam Zapesocki) is rude and impatient, Mary (Catherine Campbell) has bad table manners, Jane (Pamela Warner) looks like an unmade bed, Sue (Sarah Schade) is bouncy and destructive, and Billy (Adrian McKinnon) is always late. Dr. Manners cures them all, and says that good manners come from the heart "and all their hearts are in the right place."

DOCTOR MANNERS EFFECTS A CURE with the aid of Nurse Polite, as they tidy up a messy patient.

Around the world, to F.G. Miller

By Leanne Wilson
F. G. Miller Student Journalist

Hello from F. G. Miller High School. Well, as promised, this week I am writing about our new teacher, Mr. Roland Steinwand, who has taken a temporary position, filling in for Mrs. Wasylik during her maternity leave. Interviewing and writing this article was a very good geography lesson for me, as you'll soon see.

Mr. Steinwand grew up in Edmonton, Alberta and attended the University of Alberta. Because of his interest in traveling, he decided to take jobs outside of Canada. From 1992-1993, he taught at the University of West Bohemia in Pilsen, which happens to be the home of the original Pilsener Beer. The next year he accepted a teaching position at Alcantara International School in China, where he taught for two years. Mr. Steinwand has also worked in Shanghai at Keaton International Trade for Imports and Exports.

But the list does not end here. For one summer, Mr. Steinwand worked in Lisbon, Portugal at International House. He said it was a great job and during his free time he enjoyed going to the beautiful beaches. Mr. Steinwand has also been the principal of an American School in Macedonia. And now, Mr. Steinwand can add Elk Point to his long list of places he has worked.

Mr. Steinwand's hobbies include learning about other cultures by reading and studying the history of the cultural groups. Of course, he loves to travel (he's been to almost every Western European country). Hockey, water sports (scuba, snorkeling) and racquet sports are some of the activities Mr. Steinwand enjoys doing. And most recently, Mr. Steinwand has taken up wine making.

So, after working in all these foreign places, I asked Mr. Steinwand what he thought of Elk Point. He replied it was a very peaceful place where the pace of life is slower. He said that the people were very friendly and he enjoys working with the staff at F. G. Miller. The students and staff welcome Mr. Steinwand to F. G. Miller High School.

Congratulations to the following students for being nominated Crusaders of the Week for the months of February and March: Brianne Greening, Marci Bintz, Veronica Jackson, Leanne Wilson, Romy Rohner, Kyla Ference, Erica Lind, Krista Poisson, Kyrie Loughran, Jonathan Buryn, Corrine Lowe, Tessa Sakowski, Brandi Breen, Tanya Yopyk, Jenni Kiri, Eva Gusnowski, Erica Nielsen, Tatjana Skrbic, Stephen Kozina and Lesley Quist.

Well, that's all from the halls of F. G. Miller. The students and staff wish everyone a great holiday and a very Happy Easter.

F. G. Miller Career Day '99 was another big success

By Elaine Ziomek
Career Day Committee Member

The staff and students of F. G. Miller Jr./St. High School would like to thank all of the career speakers who traveled from as far as Edmonton in order to give the Crusaders an opportunity to look into the career choices open to them in the ever changing work world. We would like to thank the following speakers for making Career Day '99 a success:

Paradoski, Bob Porozni, John Irwin, Sgt. Stewart Burden, Lindsay Armitage, Sue Bartholomew, Ken Orr, Jody Lecopoy, Scott Bannister, Nancy Butt, Margaret McMullen, Const. Simon Cote, Sgt. Glenn DeGoeij, Leo Bernard, Christie Sorochan, Lana Wruth, Shawna Richardson, Tammy O'Neill.

Thanks to all the Crusaders who volunteered to be hosts to our presenters. You did an excellent job of making our guests feel welcome. Also a big thanks to the work experience students who helped ensure that Career Day would be on schedule and to all the other Crusaders that helped with the little things.

Also, thanks to Ray Hellquist, Maureen Ference, Elaine Marcenik, Sharon Ballas, Stacey Adams and Diane Parenteau for helping to organize this event. This year's Career Day was a joint effort between F. G. Miller and the Elk Point Elementary Parent Council. Students from Grade 5 to 12 took part in the event, as well as Grade 6 students from Fishing Lake and Grade 8 to 12 students from Heinsburg.

Thanks to all the staff who supervised the sessions and to Donna Gulayec for manning the hospitality room. Also thanks to Denise Smereka and Darlene Sereda.

CAREERS ranged from welding, with Jody Lecopoy and Scott Bannister (above) to television reporting, with Michael Higgins.

Grades 1 and 9 study nutritious snacking

In conjunction with Nutrition Month, the Grade 9 CTS class did a project on Nutritious Snacks from their Foods 1060 module. They invited Mrs. Bury's Grade 1 class, who were also studying the four food groups in their health class, to join them.

The two classes worked together preparing Mini Pizzas, which of course, make use of the four food groups: milk products, grain products, meat and alternatives, vegetables and fruit.

POSTER KIDS - The Grade 9s also had a poster coloring contest for the Grade 1s. The six winners were: Michael Marianchuk, Danielle Oryschuk, Brett Lindquist, Tanner Shankowski, Steven Lajimodiere and Hailey Casper.

TEAMWORK -- Grades 9 and 1 work together to create nutritious and delicious pizzas

These girls just wanta have fun

By Doug Bassett
Review Sports

Four years ago someone told me he would have an all-girls hockey team. I told him, "You're crazy, man." But here we are in 1999, Elk Point Minor Hockey with two girls' teams, Midgets and Peewees. The Midget girls were coached by Jacques deMoissac this season and team manager was Brian Tucker. Tucker had a dream. Not the Tucker that wanted to build cars, the Tucker who wanted to build a girls hockey team. His dream came true.

This is the third full season for the Midget girls, the Storm, who were placed in the Tier II of the Central Alberta Female League, along with Hardisty, St. Paul, Vermilion, Lashburn and Castor. After being tied at Christmas, the team went over .500 in league play and finished in second place in the league tournament held in Lashburn, defeating Vermilion and Castor, then losing to Lashburn 5-2 in the final on the same weekend as the Bantam Colts were hosting their Provincial tournament here in Elk Point.

The Midget girls will lose only one player next year, their team captain and kingpin for the last three years, #10 Kandace Bjornstad. Kandy will be going to college next year and plans to try out for the college team, and we wish her all the best in studies and in her hockey future. Kandice's brother Kent, who we featured at Christmas time playing in Fort Saskatchewan Triple A Bantam, had a great year playing defence, his team finished in first place in the Major Alberta Bantam League, has become very sick lately and has spent the last month in the hospital. We all know how worried

Kevin and Karen are and are hoping Kent will get better real soon, and return to school and normal activities.

The Peewee Girls Cyclones, coached by George Hahn and managed by Pam Ballas, are in their second season and suffered growing pains like all young teams, but things look real good for next year, with all the same girls still eligible to play Peewee Girls hockey. This should make for a strong team, one that will be competitive in the league and may be able to compete in Provincials next season.

Next we're almost done with hockey, but just before we wind up there's a North East League annual Meeting this coming Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Mannville Arena, followed by our Zone 2 spring meeting at 1 p.m., also at the Mannville Arena. All coaches, managers, and other interested hockey people should try to attend.

Baseball!

Baseball registration is tomorrow night, Wednesday, April 7, at the Horizon Room of the A. G. Ross Arena from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. And there's a free baseball skills clinic for all ages on April 17 and an umpire clinic on April 24 and 25. For more info, call Roger at 724-4001.

And just one last word on hockey before we go away, up in the Beer League, in the Battle of the Bulge, the B & R Bullets, with some promising new rookies in the lineup, have once again become the Beer League champs when they squashed Jorvik last Wednesday night for the title. The Lindbergh Last Knights were having player negotiations problems and folded at Christmas time, but hopefully will return next season. The Broncos, knowing how tough the competition would be this season, folded before the season started and the old rivalry may never be the same. In the NHL, my Leafs officially put their golf season on hold, when they swept through the west, and are getting geared up to give Detroit and Dallas a run for their money.

SOCCER SOCCER SOCCER SOCCER

The Elk Point Soccer Club will be taking registrations for the '99 season April 12 and 13 in the Art Room at the Elk Point Elementary School from 6:00 to 8:00 pm. The cost will be U5 $25.00, U7 & U9 $30.00, U11,13,15,17 $40.00 and a special family rate. The season will run April 26 through June 30 on Mondays and Wednesdays 6:30 to 7:30 pm (under 5 parent - tot group will be a shorter practice) for U5-U11 and 7:30 to 8:30 pm for U13-U17. Please bring player's Alberta Health Care Number and cash / cheque for registration fee and a $25.00 cheque for jersey deposit. Be prepared to sign-up for your choice of volunteer work at registration. If you want to swap equipment, bring it marked with your name and price on April 12. Cash only for purchases.

what's NEWS at the LIBRARY?

We have books to help with your spring projects!

By Karina Mitchell
Librarian

I hope you all enjoyed your Easter holidays and that it included some time with friends and family.

You've probably eaten all the chocolate eggs and bunnies by now, 'jumped' ahead into Daylight Saving Time and the schools are closed for spring break. Summer must be around the corner! But if summer is not around the corner (the weather is never predictable in Alberta), fear not, because the Library is.

We have books to help you with all your spring projects around the house and around the yard. There are books on travel, if you're ready for hot summer weather right now! So check us out. It is also a good place to come with the kids when they have played with every toy in the house and can't find anything to do.

New Books...

For Young

Adults:

There's no such thing as monsters. But then why is there monster drool on Junie B.'s pillow? Junie B. Jones and a Monster Under Her Bed by Barbara Park.

Stacey has set up her mom with the new single dad in town, but has she gone too far? Is it nothing more than a matchmaking mess? Stacey McGill... Matchmaker? by Ann Martin.

The Ellimist had saved the kids before and now it is time for the Animorphs to help fight the Ellimist's enemy, the Crayak. The Attack by K. A. Applegate

For Adults:

Lemon-Aid New Cars 1999 is the consumer car guide used by hundreds of thousands of Canadians. Packed with insider tips to help you select a new car or mini van that's safe and fits your needs and budget. By Phil Edmonston.

The Motley Fool's Rule Breakers, Rule Makers Foolish Guide to Picking Stocks is a stock picking guide that teaches you how to locate the best investments available in today's public markets. By David and Tom Gardner.

Only days from retirement, the CIA's deadliest assassin comes up against an enemy he cannot handle — his own boss, the director of the CIA in The Eleventh Commandment by Jeffrey Archer.

Mary Higgins Clark's beloved characters, Alvirah and Willy, are back. And both are caught up in a Christmas mystery that calls on all of Alvirah's deductive powers, as well as Willy's world-class common sense in All Through the Night.

When hard-driving, corporate genius Jason Wilding reluctantly takes a break from his business and goes back to his home town, he finds more than he bargained for. His tough exterior starts to crack when he meets a widowed single parent. But is he stealing the woman his brother loves? The Blessing by Jude Deveraux.

United Church news

THIS SUNDAY, April 11: The scripture lesson will be from John 20:19-31. This is the account of the reappearance of Jesus to his disciples after his execution. Also, there will be a reading from the first letter of the apostle Peter, which says in part, "the inheritance to which we are born is one that no-ing can destroy or spoil or wither. It is kept for you in heaven, and you, because of your faith in God, are under the protection of His power until salvation comes." 1 Peter 1:4, 5.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: As iron sharpens iron, so one man sharpens the wits of another. Proverbs 27:17. NEV

In Memoriam

RUZYCKI, Mike

A loving husband, father & grandfather, who passed away April 7/98.

*I watched you suffer, I watched you sigh,
But all I could do was just stand by.
When the time came, I suffered too,
For you never deserved, what you went through
God took your hand, we had to part,
He eased your pain but broke our hearts.
If you could have spoken before you had died,
These are the words you could have replied,
This life for me has truly passed,
I loved you all till the very last Weep not for me, but courage take,
And love one another for my sake.*

F.G. Miller news

By Leanne Wilson
Student Journalist

Hello from F. G. Miller High School. Well, everybody is eagerly awaiting the Easter holidays, relieved that a much deserved break is near. This past week, on March 26, F. G. Miller and Elk Point Elementary hosted a very successful Career Day. Students from Heinsburg, Fishing Lake, the Elk Point Elementary and F. G. Miller attended career sessions which were held in the Elementary school and high school. Thank you to all the presenters who took time off to talk to the students and huge thank you to the Elk Point Elementary Parent Council, Mr. Hellquist and Ms Ziomek for all their hard work in organizing the event. It was a great afternoon and students left with a better idea of what opportunities are available to them.

Forts need more Friends - Annual meeting April 7

The Friends of the Forts, the volunteer group dedicated to supporting Fort George and Buckingham House Interpretive Centre, will hold their Annual Meeting on Wednesday, April 7 at 7:00 p.m. at the Interpretive Centre.

The Friends are getting set for another year of helping to plan and carry out exciting events and projects at the Forts, and are hoping to expand their membership. Among the plans for this year are a Black Powder Weekend combined with a Father's Day celebration, featuring members of the Edmonton House Brigade, and another huge Fort des Prairies Jamboree in late August. As well, the Friends have plans for special activities for seniors, and a possibility of some very interesting craft workshops. All current and former members, as well as any other interested individuals, are invited to the Annual Meeting to learn the details.

Remember, a $10 membership will give you free admittance to FGBH all season, as well as discounts on admission to other provincial historic sites. Family memberships are also available offered information needed to be drug free and safe in dealing with stress. Megan Proskiw told "How I Feel About Drugs" and ended, "At our age we shouldn't even be thinking about drugs."

The final skit, "Dealing with Problems," starred Brett Hahn, Addison Bartholomew, Amy Millar, Jan Kozicki and Corry Bezpalko. Mallory Paquette's essay stated "There are so many ways to stay drug free. I plan to make the right choices... I have learned that it is OK to say no." Scott Lindquist, the sixth essay winner, said he had learned to "use positive alternatives — with more activities, there is less chance you will do drugs" He also learned that giving compliments and considering consequences are important ways of coping.

All six essay winners were presented with medallions.

Guest speaker was Linnette Newby, County of St. Paul FCSS Director, who feels Elk Point gave the program "excellent parent and community support. I do believe in DARE — it gives children the tools to make positive changes and make the community a better place to live. Healthy choices will result in happier families."

Four students from F. G. Miller High School were chosen as positive role models. Tori Warawa, Jamie Schnurer, Chantelle Maas and Dawn Poisson were honored for having achieved the status of DARE grads without having taken the program.

Certificates to the graduates were presented by Cst. Bedard and Mr. Sereda to: Grade 6A Eryl Anton Roberts, Addison Bartholomew, Curtis Beady, Corry Bezpalko, Courtinee Bintz, Colin Ference, Valerie Friesen, Brett Hahn, Ashley Hebblethwaite, Brandon Holthe, Lee Letestu, Scott Lindquist, Ryan Merkel, Amy Millar, Amy Olstad, Corbin Poitras, Curtis Proskiw, Megan Proskiw, David Ramful and Tyson Slywka (Not in attendance: Jason Lajimodiere). Grade 6B: Brett Bekker, Joshua Boyko, Melissa Breen, Jordan Cousins, Megan Dorey, Simone Dumont, Lornie Gadwa, Jan Kozicki, Travis Lindquist, Devin Moneta, Nicholas Myshaniuk, Tanya Orr, Mallory Paquette, Matthew Poitras, Danielle Wruth, Michelle Zapesocki, Garret Zarowny (Not in attendance: Scott Dallaire, Zachary MacKinnon, Matthew Mountain).

Draws for DARE's lion classroom mascots were won by Eryl Anton Roberts and Danielle Wruth.

Spirit of DARE awards went to two outstanding students, Courtinee Bintz and Brett Bekker.

Cst. Bedard presented gifts to Mr. Sereda, "not being a teacher, I would never have been able to do this without his help," and to Mr. Conrad. Mr. Conrad thanked the Elk Point Detachment for their involvement, Cst. Bedard for implementing the program, and Mr. Sereda for coordinating it. "No one here even questions why we are celebrating this achievement tonight," he concluded.
